(U) Sacramento – 200 Pounds of Meth Seized During Traffic Stop

(U) A California Highway Patrol K9 helped officers make a massive drug bust during a traffic stop last week. CHP Valley Division said on 6 May, an officer pulled over a speeding car. As the officer went up to speak with the driver, CHP says the officer noticed “criminal indicators” – prompting the officer to put the K9 to work. After getting an alert from the K9, officers started searching the car. Officers soon discovered about 200 pounds of suspected methamphetamine inside four large cardboard boxes.

(U) Stanford – Noose Found Hanging at Stanford University Investigated as Hate Crime

(U) Stanford University said it found a noose hanging from a tree outside of a residence hall and is investigating the incident as a hate crime. In an email to students and staff, university officials said campus safety authorities immediately “removed the noose and retained it as evidence,” after receiving a report Sunday evening that a noose was seen outside an undergraduate dormitory. A Stanford spokesman did not answer questions seeking more details on the incident, including whether campus video surveillance cameras captured the noose being placed in the tree.

(U) Oregon – Molotov Cocktails Thrown at Oregon Anti-Abortion Office

(U) Keizer – Two Molotov cocktails were thrown at an anti-abortion organization in a suburb of Salem on Sunday after an unsuccessful attempt to break in. At about 10:40 p.m., one or more people unsuccessfully tried to break a window at the Oregon Right to Life building. The Keizer Police Department said the suspect(s) then ignited two Molotov cocktails and threw them toward the brick building. There was a small fire with minimal damage, and no one was in the building at the time, police said. This case is under investigation and police said they are seeking tips.

(U) Wisconsin – Anti-Abortion Center Targeted by Arson, Police Say

(U) Madison – The office of a conservative Wisconsin anti-abortion group was set on fire on Sunday, police said. Graffiti saying "if abortions aren't safe, then you aren't either" was also left behind, the Wisconsin Family Action's office said in a statement, blaming a "leftist anarchist group" for the attack. The Madison Police Department said it was investigating the Sunday morning fire as arson, adding that the fire was quickly put out by the local fire department. The department did not identify any suspects and said no injuries were reported.
